Subject: Proposition 65 for Coffee

Proposition 65 should be issued for coffee because of the acrylamide. Consumers should be informed of the potential danger of acrylamide, then it is their choice what actions they want to take. If snack food companies could reformulate their potato chips to prevent the formation of acrylamide during the frying process, coffee companies should be required to do the same. The Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment should put the health of the general public above the profits of coffee companies.
