

From: Natural Food Co-Op
To: P65Public Comments
Subject: Aloe Vera
Date: Monday, May 04, 2015 10:58:01 AM

Hello,

My name is Julie Holmgren and I am general manager of the Natural Food Co-Op and we sell aloe vera. Throughout my many years here I have heard many comments and personal testimonies about the healing attributes of Aloe vera. Never have I heard of anybody getting cancer or attributing a exasperation of their cancer symptoms to this plant. I think connecting Aloe vera with cancer causing statements based on little to no realistic evidence would be an injustice. A fear based statement like what is suggested by your organization, would prevent people from using this product to initiate a natural healing process and instead reduce them to choosing pharmaceuticals that are known to cause serious side effects. At the least, more unbiased research needs to be done before this type of conclusion can be drawn and acted upon.

Thank you,
Julie

Natural Food Co-op
230 N Sibley Ave
Litchfield MN 55355
320-693-7539
nfm@hutchtel.net
www.litchfoodcoop.com